

Miller & Lisle

Mail Orders Filled at Advertised Prices

A Little Over Half Price for Silk and Lisle Gloves

There's never been a Fabric Glove Sale like this in Richmond.

Briefly, the story is this: $6,000 worth of New Fabric Gloves were offered us by the leading house of New York to sell for about $3,200.

We accepted the offer at once, & the Gloves went on sale yesterday morning. The response was gratifying—even to us, who plan big things & expect big things. Full assortments ready for you this morning.

Black Lisle Gloves, 2 25c	Milane Silk Gloves, in black & white, double tip, 2 44c
White Lisle Gloves, 2 clasps, silk embroidered back, 25c	Milane Silk Gloves, in black, white & tan, 2 clasps, Paris point back, $1 value, 65c
10-button Black, White & Tan Lisle Gloves, $1.00 value, 29c	10-button Milane Silk Gloves, in black, tan & white, lustrous silk, $2.00 value, $1.00
10-button Lisle-Thread Gloves, black, white & tan, $1.50 value, 59c	10-button Silk Gloves, in black, white & tan, double tipped, $1 & $1.50 value, 79c
Chamois Lisle Gloves, 10-button length, natural color, $1.50 value, 59c

HAWLEY SYNDICATE MAY TAKE SEABOARD

Report Here That Chesapeake and Ohio Will Form Alliance Reaching Through South.

RECEIVERSHIP TO END SOON

Heavy Buying in Seaboard Gives Rise to Belief That Hawley Is in the Market.

Recent activity in Seaboard Air Line stocks, now classed as Seaboard Company common, first and second preferred, has given rise to the belief in local banking and railroad circles that the Hawley syndicate may acquire control of that property. It seems to be generally admitted that the Seaboard reorganization committee has about completed its work, and that the receivership will shortly end, when the road will be sold. There has been endless discussion as to who would get possession, although there was nothing definite upon which a correct theory could be based.

According to those who are well versed apparently in railroad matters, the Hawley syndicate had one of two plans in view when it bought the Chesapeake and Ohio railway.

If the deal was not made as a speculative venture, the syndicate undoubtedly had in mind the possibility of great development and extensions, the popular idea being that the latter program would be followed.

Moreover, it seems to be well understood that sooner or later the owners will buy or lease a line which would give a new route to New York and New Orleans. Then, by taking over the Seaboard the field of usefulness would spread over just that much more territory.

Whether Mr. Hawley and his associates have been heavy buyers in Seaboard stock cannot be definitely stated, but it is certain that some one has bought Seaboard extensively during the past month or six weeks, taking, apparently, all offerings. With a connection into Chicago and control of the Seaboard Air Line, Mr. Hawley would have a route to New Orleans, no small feat in the railroad world.

Seaboard Stock Goes Higher. Since April 15 Seaboard common has advanced from 48 to 70, the first preferred from 27 to 40. Lately the earnings have increased to that point where they show a margin over fixed charges, the business generally indicating that the company is on its feet, and that the receivership can terminate without detriment to the interests of stockholders.

The Seaboard Air Line, with a mileage of 2,321, is naturally regarded as a great Southern property. It owns a line from Richmond to Tampa and Atlanta, and skirts a prosperous territory touching deep water at Norfolk, Portsmouth, Wilmington, N. C., Savannah, Jacksonville and Tampa, and reaches over to Montgomery and Birmingham. It is owned or controlled by the Southern Railway, the Atlantic Coast Line or the Louisville and Nashville, because of Federal laws, so the question of another control is logical. From New York the statement comes that Hawley has been taking all Seaboard stock he had, his buying having sent the price higher, as stated above.

PROHIBITION SPEAKERS

Anti-Saloon League Orators to Occupy Baptist Pulpit Sunday.

At the meeting of the Baptist ministers of the city yesterday morning a request was received from the Virginia Anti-Saloon League that the Baptist pulpits of the city be opened to league speakers next Sunday to present the case of prohibition. The request was granted, a number of well known Anti-Saloon League workers will speak here next Sunday in Baptist pulpits. Later an anti-saloon field day will be arranged in Methodist churches. Resolutions of regret were passed at the retirement of Rev. C. E. Stuart, who has given up his pastorate here to engage in work for the Anti-Saloon League. Reports were heard from delegates to the Southern Baptist Convention, which recently met in Louisville.

Continue Grant's Case.

After the coroner's jury heard several witnesses in the case, they came to the opinion yesterday morning that Thomas Knight (colored) came to his death early Sunday morning at the hands of John Grant, who confessedly stabbed him in the heart with a pocket knife, following a quarrel over a woman.

The case in the Police Court was continued to Thursday morning. The case against Abraham Harris, who was arrested in connection with the crime, was continued to the same date.

GAMBLERS SERVE TERM IN PRISON

O'Rourke, Hobson and Magruder Locked in Cell at Noon and Released at Midnight.

PLEADED GUILTY IN COURT

One Day in Jail, With Fines, Imposed on Race-Track Performers—Try Barrett To-Morrow.

Before Magistrate Thomas P. Larus, of Henrico county, yesterday morning Mike O'Rourke, John Magruder and A. M. Hobson were fined $100 each and sentenced to one day in the county jail for being implicated in the operation of certain gambling games at the State Fair Grounds during the race meet last week. O'Rourke was fined an additional $100 on the charge of resisting an officer of the law, he having been doorknocker at the time that the place was raided by the police and the county officers.

William Barrett, alias Nowland, alleged to have been conducting a fast game at the fair grounds, was sentenced to one day in the county jail, and his case postponed until to-morrow morning. The trials were set for yesterday at 10 A. M., but on account of the fact that the witnesses were late they were postponed until 11:30 o'clock. The hearing concluded, the judge ordered the witnesses to be released at noon. They were released at 12 o'clock last night.

Locked Them in Cell. When O'Rourke, Hobson and Magruder were conducted from the magistrate's courtroom to the jail, it was suggested that they be placed in the jail office under guard until the twelve hours sentence had expired. Sheriff Kemp, however, said that they deserved no more than any others, and ordered that they be put in the jail along with regular prisoners. A crowd of larger and smaller gamblers followed them to the jail, and the jailer, who was present in the expectation of hearing the evidence of the large number of witnesses called to tell about the affair for the Commonwealth. In this respect they were sorely disappointed. Through their attorney, N. M. Harris, the two gamblers pleaded guilty and threw themselves on the mercy of the court. Magistrate Larus imposed the penalty, stating at the same time that he was making it comparatively light, because he did not believe he was punishing the main offenders.

When the case of Barrett is called to-morrow morning, the warrant charging him with running a wheel of fortune and other gambling devices will be withdrawn, as he was not conducting these when arrested. He will be tried, if convicted, to be sentenced to not less than thirty or more than ninety days in jail and fined not less than $200 or more than $500. At all events, if he is found guilty, he will have to stand a fine and a jail sentence, like the others.

Along with the gamblers, the officers confiscated their paraphernalia, which is now locked up in the jail. It consists of the bookmaking outfit, the wheel of fortune and two tables. As soon as all the cases are disposed of, the inanimate part of the layout will receive its sentence, which, according to Commonwealth's Attorney Julian C. Brown, will be to be smashed to smithy. In fact, it has been decreed already that the rouage of not and every vestige of the rest shall go up in smoke, possibly before the end of the week.

Fined for Selling Liquor. Isaac Coleman (colored), charged with selling liquor without a license, was fined $100 in the Police Court yesterday morning, and sentenced to one day in the county jail. Coleman was charged with selling $500 security for twelve months. Charles Hamilton (colored) was fined $10 for selling liquor without a license. James Davis (colored), charged with running a disorderly house, was fined $20 and placed under $100 security for thirty days.

Fairmount Club to Meet. The Fairmount Club, which will meet in Town Hall next Saturday night for the purpose of hearing speeches from the candidates for municipal offices. The voters in that section of the city have elected a committee of three to be appointed to draft suitable resolutions asking for and insisting upon increased compensation, to be sent to the secretary of the Southern Railway Association, and to the board of directors of the association, in meeting at Old Point, on the 26th instant, and ask for a reply within thirty days from the date of this communication, and that the said committee be authorized to receive the reply and report same to the president of this association, who will call a meeting of the whole association is necessary.

We agree with our president that it would be unwise to appeal to State relief, but we do not believe that legislative relief from any source is incident to our business, and prefer not to do so.

We thank the president for his able and efficient manner in the able and efficient manner in which he has looked after the affairs of the association were unanimously adopted.

Resolutions of thanks to Mayor Richardson and the Richmond agents for the courtesy extended the association, and to the board of directors of the association, in meeting at Old Point, on the 26th instant, and ask for a reply within thirty days from the date of this communication, and that the said committee be authorized to receive the reply and report same to the president of this association, who will call a meeting of the whole association is necessary.

We agree with our president that it would be unwise to appeal to State relief, but we do not believe that legislative relief from any source is incident to our business, and prefer not to do so.

We thank the president for his able and efficient manner in the able and efficient manner in which he has looked after the affairs of the association were unanimously adopted.

Resolutions of thanks to Mayor Richardson and the Richmond agents for the courtesy extended the association, and to the board of directors of the association, in meeting at Old Point, on the 26th instant, and ask for a reply within thirty days from the date of this communication, and that the said committee be authorized to receive the reply and report same to the president of this association, who will call a meeting of the whole association is necessary.

We agree with our president that it would be unwise to appeal to State relief, but we do not believe that legislative relief from any source is incident to our business, and prefer not to do so.

We thank the president for his able and efficient manner in the able and efficient manner in which he has looked after the affairs of the association were unanimously adopted.

IMPOSE TAX ON WHOLE COMMUNITY

President of Fire Agents' Association Offers Solution to Fireman's Relief Fund Question.

W. L. PIERCE NEW PRESIDENT

Christiansburg Man Is at Head of Virginia Organization During Coming Year.

W. L. Pierce, of Christiansburg, Va., was elected president of the Virginia Association of Local Fire Insurance Agents at the annual meeting of that association yesterday afternoon at the City Hotel. Other officers elected were: B. F. Kirkpatrick, of Lynchburg, first vice-president; B. E. Goodwyn, of Emporia, second vice-president; J. T. Pulliam, of Richmond, secretary and treasurer.

Chairmen of the standing committees were named as follows: L. W. Childrey, of Norfolk, executive committee; Charles L. Lunsford, of Roanoke, legislative committee; M. J. Straus, of Richmond, grievance committee. The following were named as delegates to the national convention, which meets at Atlantic City in September: W. Lee Powell, Newport News; Coleman Wortham and George A. Gibson, Richmond; L. W. Childrey, Norfolk; W. T. Paxton, University of Virginia; J. T. Pulliam, of Richmond; Woodward, Suffolk; Charles L. Lunsford, Roanoke; B. F. Kirkpatrick, Lynchburg; and W. L. Pierce, Christiansburg.

Firemen's Tax Entire Community. In his annual report at the opening session early in the afternoon, Coleman Wortham, the outgoing president, dwelt at some length upon the firemen's pension law, which was enacted by the legislature last year. He declared that there should be a pension fund for the old and disabled firemen, but that the fund should be derived from a tax upon the whole community, and not from the fire insurance companies alone. He went on to say that when the present law was passed he expressed the belief that it was unconstitutional and that the courts would declare it void. He said that he was surprised, then, when the courts issued a restraining order against the State Insurance Commissioner when the commissioner attempted to put the law into effect.

President Wortham pointed out that some law imposing an equitable tax on all business interests for the relief of the firemen should be passed.

Fifty Agents Present. About fifty agents were present when President Wortham called the meeting to order at noon. Mayor Richardson welcomed the agents to the city, and Colonel Childrey, of Norfolk, responded on behalf of the association. The reading of the report of the president consumed practically all of the remainder of the opening session, the report being referred to a committee on resolutions for action.

The visitors were guests of the local agents at luncheon, and the second and final session began at 3:30 o'clock. The election of officers was the principal business of the session, and a number of routine matters were disposed of before the association adjourned at 5 o'clock.

The following report of the committee on resolutions was presented and adopted: "We approve the president's address as to multiple agencies, and beg to call attention to the fact that Richmond is the only city in the South that has a multiple agency law. The fact is that one of the local companies in Virginia has three agents in the city of Newport News. We earnestly hope that this company will reduce its agency force to one agent."

"We endorse the president's views as regards the firemen's pension law. It is resolved that we endorse what our president has said, and agree that it is the duty of the association to continue its efforts to secure legislation to continue its allegiance and affiliation with the National Association."

"We endorse the suggestion of the president that the committee on resolutions be continued, and that we continue our fight along conservative lines for the increase of compensation, which we feel and know to be absolutely necessary for the firemen. We believe that a committee of three be appointed to draft suitable resolutions asking for and insisting upon increased compensation, to be sent to the secretary of the Southern Railway Association, and to the board of directors of the association, in meeting at Old Point, on the 26th instant, and ask for a reply within thirty days from the date of this communication, and that the said committee be authorized to receive the reply and report same to the president of this association, who will call a meeting of the whole association is necessary."

We agree with our president that it would be unwise to appeal to State relief, but we do not believe that legislative relief from any source is incident to our business, and prefer not to do so.

We thank the president for his able and efficient manner in the able and efficient manner in which he has looked after the affairs of the association were unanimously adopted.

Resolutions of thanks to Mayor Richardson and the Richmond agents for the courtesy extended the association, and to the board of directors of the association, in meeting at Old Point, on the 26th instant, and ask for a reply within thirty days from the date of this communication, and that the said committee be authorized to receive the reply and report same to the president of this association, who will call a meeting of the whole association is necessary.

We agree with our president that it would be unwise to appeal to State relief, but we do not believe that legislative relief from any source is incident to our business, and prefer not to do so.

We thank the president for his able and efficient manner in the able and efficient manner in which he has looked after the affairs of the association were unanimously adopted.

Resolutions of thanks to Mayor Richardson and the Richmond agents for the courtesy extended the association, and to the board of directors of the association, in meeting at Old Point, on the 26th instant, and ask for a reply within thirty days from the date of this communication, and that the said committee be authorized to receive the reply and report same to the president of this association, who will call a meeting of the whole association is necessary.

We agree with our president that it would be unwise to appeal to State relief, but we do not believe that legislative relief from any source is incident to our business, and prefer not to do so.

SAMPLE PLEDGE FOR OUR PRIMARY

Person Voting This Ticket, It Says, Hereby Affirms That He Is a Democrat.

PLAN COMMITTEE'S IDEA

Not Believed That Party Men Will Find Objections in the Oath.

From thoroughly reliable sources it was learned yesterday that the pledge which had been framed by the committee on plans of the city Democratic ticket to be voted in the municipal primary on June 24 will be by no means drastic, but that, on the other hand, it will be the mildest used here in a number of years. The pledge was freely made in the Times-Dispatch, and is being now committed to the printer. It is of course, within the province of the general committee to reject this recommendation, and to insert a pledge of a different nature, but it is believed that the language adopted by the subcommittee will be approved without material alteration when the general meeting is held Friday night to take the matter up.

"I Am a Democrat." According to the information received yesterday, the language of the pledge, which will be recommended, is about as follows: "The person voting this ticket hereby affirms that he is a Democrat." It seems hardly probable, in the light of past observation, that the report of the subcommittee will be met with very serious opposition, though there may be a slight skirmish over its final adoption. It is so, as it there will be little or no objection to such a pledge from the Democratic party, and it is not believed that the language is sufficiently stringent to hurt the conscience of anyone desiring to vote in the city primary.

The meeting Friday night promises to be largely attended, as a number of matters other than the pledge of office are of public interest are involved in the making of a primary plan. Friends of various candidates will seek to have the assessments for entry and exit placed at the lowest reasonable figure, this being a feature which always provokes discussion. The general committee will meet every Friday night from now until the primary battle is over.

INVITE PIANO MEN

City and Chamber of Commerce Unite to Hold Large Convention Here. The special committee on advertising of the City not yesterday afternoon proved bills for the recent entertainment of the International Air-Braze and Good Roads Conventions, and the American Cotton Manufacturers' Association.

In response to a request from Business Manager Dabney, of the Chamber of Commerce, a resolution was passed inviting to Richmond piano manufacturers, dealers and salesmen, these three bodies meeting in joint session this year in Detroit. President R. Leo Peters, of the Common Council; Business Manager Dabney, of the Chamber of Commerce, and J. C. Corley, representing the local music houses, will go to Detroit to present Richmond's invitation for the three conventions to meet in Richmond in 1911. While the three bodies are in the city, their sessions are held separately, containing eight days, and bringing more than 1,200 delegates from all parts of America.

GET THAT JUNK

Council Committee to Inspect Incinerating Plants Elsewhere. The Common Council last night adopted a resolution from the Committee on Street Cleaning, authorizing the use of $250 of the sum appropriated for the establishment of an incinerating plant for the inspection of plants in other cities. Five members of the committee will make the inspection. The appropriation for the establishment of the plant is $10,000. Councilman Hirschberg opposed the idea, and the discussion continued until an hour late in the evening when a recorded vote was taken.

Major Anderson Returns. Attorney-General William M. Anderson returned to the city yesterday from Charleston, W. Va., where he had been for the past week taking depositions in the debt litigation between the two States. He will leave next Monday for Wytheville to attend the June term of the State Supreme Court, which will be held there. The docket is a heavy one, it being probable that the term will last until the 1st of July.

MAY GET FIFTY YEARS IN PRISON

Willis Boyd Confesses to Robbing Five Houses of Lead Pipe and Brass Fixtures.

From a vantage point in the police automobile, Willis Boyd, colored, who was arrested Saturday afternoon on suspicion of being the man who had robbed several houses of lead pipe and brass fixtures, yesterday morning pointed out to detectives five houses he had broken into and despoiled, and thus gave conclusive proof of his guilt.

Boyd first denied having committed the various robberies, but after being put through the "third degree," he confessed that he was the right man, and said that he stole because he was hungry. Then they put him in the automobile, and he pointed out the scenes of his midnight work. Some of the houses were completely gutted for the stolen stuff, and some of it has been recovered. He was recognized by some of the junk dealers, and this on top of his confession settles his guilt.

The minimum penalty attached to such jobs is ten years, and as there are five warrants against him, Boyd may go behind the bars for a period of fifty years. It is safe to say that he will be some time to come before the State House and the Bird-Hand gang will see his familiar form again. His arrest is regarded as one of the most important of recent date, for it is thought it will put an effective stop to continued damage to vacant houses, in which Boyd mostly confined himself.

Boyd was released from the chain gang on April 24, having been let down for four months of idleness. Now he faces a term of 50 years in jail.

Knox Straw Hats

lead all Fine Hats—and the GANS-RADY SPECIALS at

$1.65

equal the usual $2.50 and $3 Straws

Gans-Rady Company

BALTIMORE BANKERS

GET RICHMOND BONDS

STUDENTS' WORK TO BE DISPLAYED

Million and a Half Issue Authorized by Council Is Sold at Par.

BROKERAGE FEE IS SAVED

Fund Derived from This Source to Be Used for Water, Schools and Sewers.

Closing Exercises at Virginia Mechanics' Institute Begin Thursday Night.

Closing exercises for the Virginia Mechanics' Institute will be held Thursday night at 8 o'clock with an address by the Rev. H. D. C. MacLachlan, pastor of the Seventh Street Christian Church. The results of the past year's work will be given in a report by the institute. It is of course, within the province of the general committee to reject this recommendation, and to insert a pledge of a different nature, but it is believed that the language adopted by the subcommittee will be approved without material alteration when the general meeting is held Friday night to take the matter up.

Introductory remarks by Superintendent Frank Duke. Introduction of the speaker. Address by the Rev. H. D. C. MacLachlan.

Delivery of diplomas and certificates. Delivery of the "Lion Mow" medal, gift of Henry S. Hutzler, by W. T. Dabney. Delivery of the Chevaling medal, gift of A. J. Chevaling, by Dr. F. C. Woodward.

Delivery of the Duckhardt prize, gift of Richard Duckhardt, for the best design, by the Rev. William H. Smith, D. D.

Delivery of the "Addie Cole" medal, by the Rev. W. C. James. The drawing-room, laboratories and mechanical shops will be open for inspection with the work of the students completed during the past year. In the auditorium may be seen two excellent pieces of sculpture made from clay models by Louis P. Selden and William J. Moll, the exercises and exhibit will be open to the public. Drawings will be shown in free hand, including show card lettering, decorations, designs for book covers, advertisements and a variety of other subjects.

COMMITTEE SPLIT

No Definite plan Reached as to New Form of Government.

At a special meeting yesterday afternoon the Council Committee on Form of Government deferred its report on the matter of decreasing the membership in the two branches and placing the administrative and executive powers in the hands of a committee of three. The delay was occasioned by statements from Councilmen Richardson and Dabney, who had been in the city since their return from a tour of inspection of the city of New York, that they were in writing at a later date. Councilmen Cutchins and Mitchell favored, as they have always done, the plan of a small paid Council and a decrease in wards from seven to four. The committee adjourned to meet on June 1, when a report will probably be formulated.

Major Anderson Returns. Attorney-General William M. Anderson returned to the city yesterday from Charleston, W. Va., where he had been for the past week taking depositions in the debt litigation between the two States. He will leave next Monday for Wytheville to attend the June term of the State Supreme Court, which will be held there. The docket is a heavy one, it being probable that the term will last until the 1st of July.

Major Anderson Returns. Attorney-General William M. Anderson returned to the city yesterday from Charleston, W. Va., where he had been for the past week taking depositions in the debt litigation between the two States. He will leave next Monday for Wytheville to attend the June term of the State Supreme Court, which will be held there. The docket is a heavy one, it being probable that the term will last until the 1st of July.

Major Anderson Returns. Attorney-General William M. Anderson returned to the city yesterday from Charleston, W. Va., where he had been for the past week taking depositions in the debt litigation between the two States. He will leave next Monday for Wytheville to attend the June term of the State Supreme Court, which will be held there. The docket is a heavy one, it being probable that the term will last until the 1st of July.

Major Anderson Returns. Attorney-General William M. Anderson returned to the city yesterday from Charleston, W. Va., where he had been for the past week taking depositions in the debt litigation between the two States. He will leave next Monday for Wytheville to attend the June term of the State Supreme Court, which will be held there. The docket is a heavy one, it being probable that the term will last until the 1st of July.

Major Anderson Returns. Attorney-General William M. Anderson returned to the city yesterday from Charleston, W. Va., where he had been for the past week taking depositions in the debt litigation between the two States. He will leave next Monday for Wytheville to attend the June term of the State Supreme Court, which will be held there. The docket is a heavy one, it being probable that the term will last until the 1st of July.

Major Anderson Returns. Attorney-General William M. Anderson returned to the city yesterday from Charleston, W. Va., where he had been for the past week taking depositions in the debt litigation between the two States. He will leave next Monday for Wytheville to attend the June term of the State Supreme Court, which will be held there. The docket is a heavy one, it being probable that the term will last until the 1st of July.

Major Anderson Returns. Attorney-General William M. Anderson returned to the city yesterday from Charleston, W. Va., where he had been for the past week taking depositions in the debt litigation between the two States. He will leave next Monday for Wytheville to attend the June term of the State Supreme Court, which will be held there. The docket is a heavy one, it being probable that the term will last until the 1st of July.

Major Anderson Returns. Attorney-General William M. Anderson returned to the city yesterday from Charleston, W. Va., where he had been for the past week taking depositions in the debt litigation between the two States. He will leave next Monday for Wytheville to attend the June term of the State Supreme Court, which will be held there. The docket is a heavy one, it being probable that the term will last until the 1st of July.

Major Anderson Returns. Attorney-General William M. Anderson returned to the city yesterday from Charleston, W. Va., where he had been for the past week taking depositions in the debt litigation between the two States. He will leave next Monday for Wytheville to attend the June term of the State Supreme Court, which will be held there. The docket is a heavy one, it being probable that the term will last until the 1st of July.

Major Anderson Returns. Attorney-General William M. Anderson returned to the city yesterday from Charleston, W. Va., where he had been for the past week taking depositions in the debt litigation between the two States. He will leave next Monday for Wytheville to attend the June term of the State Supreme Court, which will be held there. The docket is a heavy one, it being probable that the term will last until the 1st of July.

Major Anderson Returns. Attorney-General William M. Anderson returned to the city yesterday from Charleston, W. Va., where he had been for the past week taking depositions in the debt litigation between the two States. He will leave next Monday for Wytheville to attend the June term of the State Supreme Court, which will be held there. The docket is a heavy one, it being probable that the term will last until the 1st of July.

Major Anderson Returns. Attorney-General William M. Anderson returned to the city yesterday from Charleston, W. Va., where he had been for the past week taking depositions in the debt litigation between the two States. He will leave next Monday for Wytheville to attend the June term of the State Supreme Court, which will be held there. The docket is a heavy one, it being probable that the term will last until the 1st of July.

Major Anderson Returns. Attorney-General William M. Anderson returned to the city yesterday from Charleston, W. Va., where he had been for the past week taking depositions in the debt litigation between the two States. He will leave next Monday for Wytheville to attend the June term of the State Supreme Court, which will be held there. The docket is a heavy one, it being probable that the term will last until the 1st of July.

Major Anderson Returns. Attorney-General William M. Anderson returned to the city yesterday from Charleston, W. Va., where he had been for the past week taking depositions in the debt litigation between the two States. He will leave next Monday for Wytheville to attend the June term of the State Supreme Court, which will be held there. The docket is a heavy one, it being probable that the term will last until the 1st of July.

Major Anderson Returns. Attorney-General William M. Anderson returned to the city yesterday from Charleston, W. Va., where he had been for the past week taking depositions in the debt litigation between the two States. He will leave next Monday for Wytheville to attend the June term of the State Supreme Court, which will be held there. The docket is a heavy one, it being probable that the term will last until the 1st of July.